

Church to re-open for Mass in near future

We are pleased to announce that arrangements are being made to re-open the church for Mass in the near future.

Our final Private Prayer session will be tonight (Wednesday 15 July) and the first Mass will be Saturday 18th July.

Our planned mass times are :

- Saturday 6.30pm
- Sunday 9.30
- Sunday 11.15
- Tuesday 10.00
- Thursday 10.00

In order to maintain social distancing there will be a limited number of places available with a maximum of 28 people at each mass - please note that there is still no obligation to attend mass so you should consider your health and that of those around you before deciding to attend

Going forwards you will need to book in advance either online or by phone

More details on the booking system will follow shortly - until this is available we will need to take your contact details on the door (for public health recording) and we will have to restrict the number of people we allow in, so it will be "first come, first served" basis

We also need to apply further rules for everyone's protection.

- People will not be able to wander around church before or after mass or gather in groups inside or outside the church.
- Everyone must sanitise their hands on entering and leaving the church.

- Holy Communion will only be distributed on the hand.
- Toilet facilities will not be available.
- There is no tea and coffee after mass.

 The number of masses is determined by the number of people available to steward etc. and more volunteers are needed ***
